For a Parking Lot

Score for I-94:

Locate a copy of Fergie's album The Dutchess.

Get into a car and turn on the album.

Drive on to the freeway.

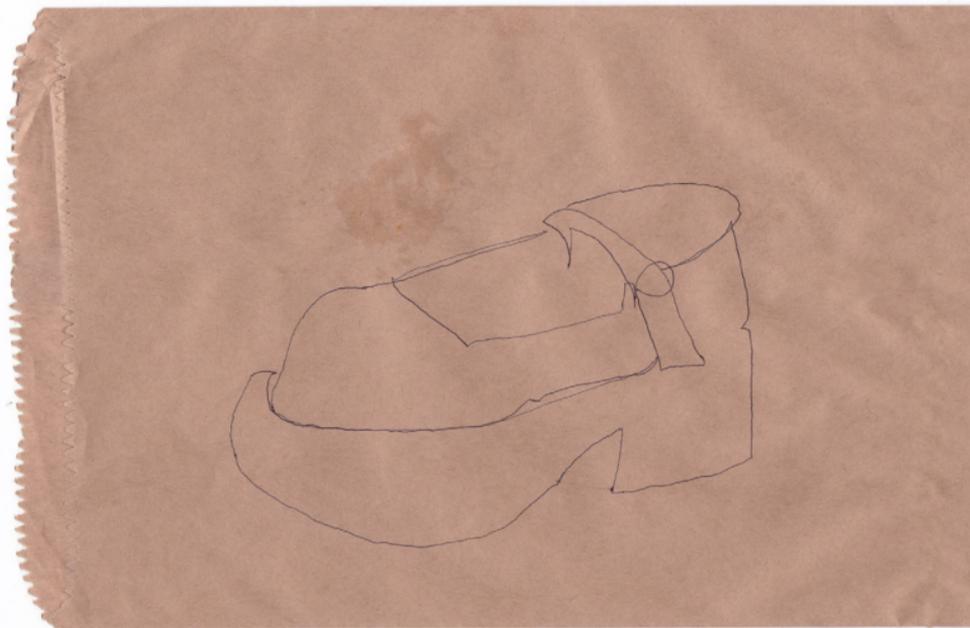

Get off at the nearest exit or switch freeways when "Glamorous" begins.

Continue driving until "Mary Jane Shoes" begins playing, and then pause the song, get off of the highway and park the car.

Listen to the entirety of "Mary Jane Shoes" while parked.

Do not move or talk during this time.

Once the song is finished drive back home.

Score for Birch Trail Road:

Gather in a group of two or more on the curb of a waterpark or park near a body of water.

Produce a large inflated inner tube for each member of the group.

Face away from one another, being careful to never cross sight lines.

Deflate the inner tubes using your bodies as aides.

As the tubes deflate, involve more of your body until the tube is flat.

Once deflated, lay the tube on the ground and take a pose resting on top of the tube looking inward towards the other members of the group.

Once all members have made eye contact, place the tubes into a pile and find a cooler.

Score for West Grand Boulevard and Porter:

Locate a median with trees in the center of a road.
Cross the road to find yourself on an outward facing part of the median visible to passing cars and beneath a branch within reach.

Gently pull down the branch so that it comes in close contact with your head.

Hold for as long as you need, possibly finding shelter behind the leaves.

Release slowly and walk across the street as you let go.

Score for Little Mack and 13 mile:

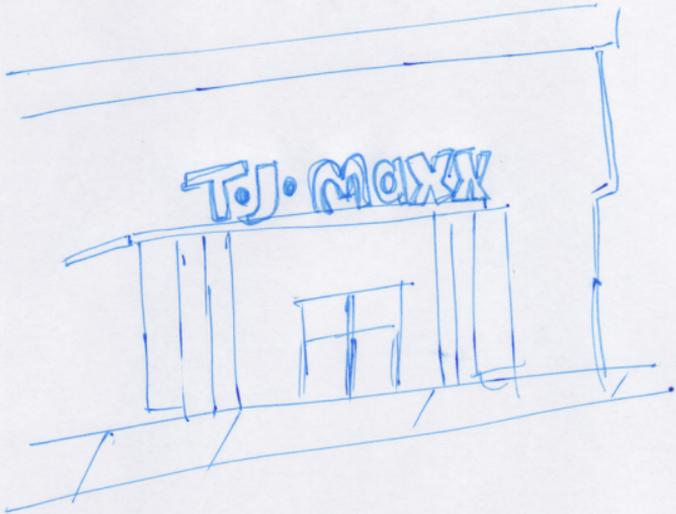

Meet your friends in a parking lot.

Park your car beside their car as closely as possible so that the windows align.

Roll down all of the windows.

Trade all members of either car by climbing through the windows of the cars.

Once both cars are re-situated, drive back to where you came from.

Score for 10 mile and Kelly Road:

Round up every issue of the weekly paper printed with thrift store coupons that you can find.

Drive to your local thrift store and park near the front, preferably with a getaway driver.

Walk inside and quietly locate the shopping carts.

Discretely one paper inside each of the carts.

Place any remaining papers on top of the shelves of the store so that they cannot be disposed of uniformly.

On your way out of the store, pass the last paper to an incoming customer.

For a Living Room:

1:

Put The View on an antennae tv.

Place antennae at a precarious angle on the floor, producing a low signal.

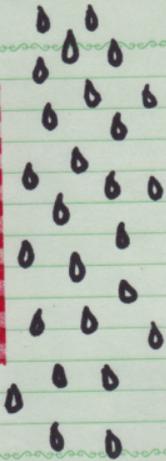

Seat a group of 5 womyn around the antennae on the floor.

Direct each person to move backwards in the room when they disagree or feel disenfranchised.

When the image becomes inaudible or imperceptible, all womyn stand up one by one beginning with the furthest from the television.

As they stand up, sing “I Can’t Stand the Rain” in rounds contingent to placement.

WE'RE ALWAYS MAKING MISTAKES.

2:

Watch 3 hours of daytime talk television.

Write down every instance of advice given to women.

Isolate all of the nouns and order them alphabetically.

Read the list aloud into a salad bowl.

3:

Find a large cardboard box.

Line the interior in magazine clippings and pieces of aluminum foil.

Close the box leaving a door that can be closed.

Place a lamp inside followed by a child.

Close the door.

Tell the child that they are in Disney World.

4:

Place a bowl of cherries at the end of a table, in proximity to a trash bin.

Stand between the bin and the cherries.

Face the cherries and take one in your mouth.

Once you've swallowed all but the pit of the cherry, face the trash can and walk towards it, spitting the pit inside as you walk.

Return to the cherry bowl and repeat until the cherries are gone.

If you need to interrupt before finishing the bowl, you must hold a pit in your mouth until you return.

5:

Pull out the bed from your couch.

Place all cushions in a pile directly next to the bed.

Invite another person to lay on top of the bed.

Place your cat on top of the pile of cushions.

Go underneath the bed and begin counting until your cat follows you beneath the bed.

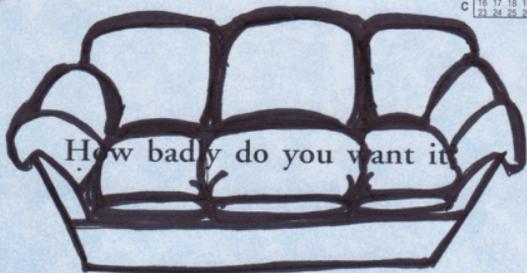

Remember that number and then begin counting until your friend follows you beneath the bed.

Calculate the difference in the two times and spend that amount of time sitting on top of the bed together in silence.
